Your scope of work has all of the technical components of the transit integration studies I'm familiar with, but in my experience, a lot transit integration is really about the process and consensus building required to carry something like this forward! I'm curious when I look at Task 4, do you envision this as initiating the process of building support for integration to complement the technical work? Or is it to arrive at consensus on on full or partial consolidation? Or something else?	Joey Goldman
